

Local History Department
Brighton Museum
Brighton

Dear Class

I need your help!

I was having a sort out of the museum storeroom the other day when I spotted a dusty old box on the back of the shelf. It must have been hanging around for years. I lifted it down carefully and dusted off the top, and when I opened it, I found a box of very strange objects. We think they must have belonged to a mystery person from Brighton's past.

Can you come in and have a look to see if we can find out who?

To help us in our quest we will need to walk around the streets of old Brighton to solve clues about Brighton's history which I hope will help us guess the identity of our special person.

I look forward to meeting you soon and hope you can help me solve the mystery.

Brighton Museum Assistant